ABB

ABB is a pioneering technology leader in electrification products, robotics and motion; industrial automation and power grids; serving customers in utilities, industry, transport and infrastructure globally. ABB operates in more than 100 countries with about 136,000 employees.

With more than four decades at the forefront of digital technologies, we are a leader in digitally connected and enabled industrial equipment and systems, with an installed base of more than 70,000 control systems connecting 70 million devices.

We start with the best people, engineering expertise and over a century of knowledge and know-how of electrification and process control in mines. Our team then provides integrated products, services and solutions to help mining and mineral processing customers optimize their power and productivity resulting in increased availability and lower lifetime investment costs.

With a history of innovation spanning more than 130 years, ABB today is writing the future of industrial digitalisation and driving the Energy and Fourth Industrial Revolutions. As title partner of Formula E, the fully electric international FIA motorsport class, ABB is pushing the boundaries of e-mobility to contribute to a sustainable future.

ABB has been a member of CEDA since 2015.

Aadni Australia

Adani Australia is a multi-dimensional energy and infrastructure company, dedicated to delivering energy solutions for an advancing world.

By providing energy solutions here in Australia and the Asia Pacific region from thermal and renewable energy, we will create jobs and help fund major infrastructure upgrades to hospitals, schools and roads by contributing billions of dollars in taxes and royalties.

The Carmichael Project began construction in June 2019 is a 10mtpa coal mine and 200km rail line that will generate billions of dollars in mining taxes and royalties, contributing to building schools, hospitals and roads for Queensland. The project will deliver 1,500 direct and 6,750 indirect jobs during ramp up and construction and we remain committed to Townsville and Rockhampton as the primary hubs of employment, with regions such as the Whitsunday; Isaac; Central Highlands; Mackay; Charters Towers; and Gladstone regions also benefiting from work packages and employment opportunities.

Adani Australia owns and operates Abbot Point Terminal which has been exporting Queensland coal responsibly for more than 30 years. It is Australia's most northerly coal port and is located 25 kilometres north-west of Bowen, in North Queensland. The port is a modern, high volume, fast turnaround port complex with natural deep water, and is a multi-user port facility.

Adani Renewables Australia's first solar farm, Rugby Run, near Moranbah in Central Queensland was switched on in May 2019 with its 247,000 solar panels now supplying renewable power to regional Queensland homes and businesses. The Rugby Run solar farm will ramp up to full operation to deliver 65MW and 185,000MWh of electricity each year, equivalent to approximately the amount of energy it takes to power 23,000 homes each year. Reaching this important milestone for the Rugby Run solar farm builds on Adani's track record for delivering projects and new businesses where ever we operate in the world.

For Adani Australia, it all starts in Queensland.

Adani Australia has been a member of CEDA since 2016.

Senator the Hon. Matt Canavan

Federal Minister for Resources and Northern Australia

Matthew grew up in Logan just south of Brisbane. After achieving a First Class Honours Degree in Economics at the University of Queensland, Matthew worked at the Productivity Commission where he eventually rose to the level of Director.

During that time Matthew worked on projects ranging from competition laws, housing affordability to counting the number of policies that Australian governments have introduced to tackle climate change (the answer was 244).

Becoming increasingly frustrated at the lack of coherent economic policy by the Rudd Government, Matthew went to work for Barnaby Joyce as his Chief-of-Staff ahead of the 2010 election. In that role, Matthew helped develop policies to provide tax concessions for vital infrastructure and to encourage people to move to the regions; worked on a Senate inquiry that recommended stricter environmental controls on coal seam gas developments; and developed a Coalition report on the potential to invest in new dams throughout Australia.

At the 2013 election Matthew was elected to the Senate. He took up his position as a Senator in the Nationals party room in July 2014 as a Senator based in Rockhampton, the first Senator to be based in Rockhampton for more than 20 years.

Matthew is a former Lions Youth of the Year and worked as a Leader with the Christian Brothers on Edmund Rice Camps, where he met his wife. They now live in Yeppoon near Rockhampton, with their four sons and baby daughter.

While Matthew's family is very proud of him being preselected by the LNP to run for the Senate, his Father remains slightly disappointed that he gave up cricket at 16 and therefore never fulfilled his true calling to play test cricket for Australia

Simon de Bell

Head of Corporate Development, ABB Australia

Simon is a member of ABB Australia's Executive team with responsibility for strategy and business development. His focus in the renewable energy area encompasses microgrids, energy storage, utility scale solar and critical power infrastructure. Simon leads ABB's engagement with government on energy policy, and activities with industry partners and universities on energy efficiency initiatives.

Prior to ABB, Simon held business management, strategy and operations roles at ICI, working in the industrial chemical, specialty chemical, and engineering consultancy businesses. Simon has international experience in Europe and South East Asia.

Born in England, Simon is an economist with Masters qualifications in Management Studies, and Commercial Law. He is ABB's representative on the AIG Leaders Group on Energy and Climate Policy, regularly hosts Committee for Economic Development of Australia forums on energy, and a member of the Clean Energy Council Solar Leadership Directorate.

More recently he has become ABB's spokesperson on the Internet of Things and how the convergence of IT/OT will change operational processes.

Simon is a Trustee of CEDA.

about CEDA

CEDA is an independent, not-for-profit membership organisation. CEDA identifies policy issues that matter for Australia's future and pursue solutions that deliver better economic, social and environmental outcomes for Australia. CEDA's cross-sector membership of 770 spans every state and territory and includes Australia's leading businesses, community organisations, government departments and academic institutions.

Membership

Organisations join CEDA because CEDA delivers exposure to high level thought leadership, timely briefings on issues of economic importance, access to networking and brand reach through sponsorship and hosting opportunities. In addition to high profile public events, CEDA also delivers regular member only events for employees of member organisations and exclusive Trustee only boardroom briefings for senior executives from member organisations. These provide a unique opportunity for peer-to-peer knowledge exchange and for speakers and attendees to talk candidly on issues.

Research and policy

CEDA's only agenda is to pursue good public policy to progress Australia's economic and social development. Since 1960 CEDA has produced more than 3000 publications, research reports and articles highlighting emerging issues and directions in a diverse range of policy areas. Research in 2019 will focus on Australia's long-term budget position, the effects of temporary migration, a survey of Australian businesses on their approach to economic development, and new approaches to addressing entrenched disadvantage.
